UNIQUE Business Systems

Introducing the mobile R2 Inventory App

With over 125 million smart phone users in the United States alone and with almost 50 percent of all searches via mobile devices, Unique Business Systems brings your company to the mobile world with the R2 Inventory App. This app can be used by both your employees and your customers. The only difference is that your employees can see real-time inventory availability while your customers do not.

Having your app on your customers mobile devices creates an invaluable link between them and your business which leads to customer loyalty. Your customers do not need to wait for your business hours or to make phone calls. Your inventory is available to them 24 x 7.

The App creates an invaluable link between your customers and your business, which leads to customer loyalty.

The R2 Mobile App can be branded with your logo, and your company name. Even the colors can be styled to match your company theme. To your customers, this will be “your” app.

The app features a simplified workflow which makes it easy for your employees and customers to check your inventory. The equipment request for a reservation is then emailed to you directly from the app. Getting your company to the app world has never been easier.
